Sophomores Play Loose Game Against Lighter Team.

In a game that was characterized by loose playing and bad fumbling, the Sophomores, for the first time this season, defeated their opponents. Wellesley High played a plucky game against a heavier team and were only beaten by a score of 17 to 0. The Sophomores should have run up a score of 30 to 0, but through the fumbling of punts and general ragged playing had to work hard to score three touchdowns.

In the latter part of the second half, the Sophomores settled down to work, and as a sample of what they could do if they tried continually made gains of five yards on a down.

The line up was as follows;

TECH '08.	WELLESLEY HIGH.
Smith, Gregory, l.e.	r.e. Gorman
Glover, l.t.	r.t. Sleeper
Daddow, l.g.	r.g. P. Shepard
Thurlow, c.	c. Theis, Putnam
H. Allen, r.g.	l.g. T. Shepard
Ellis, r.e.	l.t. J. Sleeper
Joslin, r.e.	l.e. Gallager
Ferris, Soule, q.b.	q.b. Adams
Barnes, Smith, l.h.b.	r.h.b. Farnum
Boylston, r.h.b.	l.h.b. Marshall
Heilman, f.b.	f.b. Seagrave

Score, Technology '08, 17; Wellesley High, 1. Touchdowns, Heilman, Smith, Glover. Goals from touchdowns, Smith, (2). Umpire, Henderson, Tech. Referee, Humphrey, Wellesley. Linesmen, Weeks and Rodman. Timers, McGuigan and Sibley. Time, 20 and 15 min. halves.

SENIOR CLASS NOMINATIONS.

The Senior Class Nominations are announced as follows: President, Max A. Coe, Jr., C. T. Bartlett. Vice-President, S. C. Coey. Secretary, John F. Norton, James L. Wick, T. L. Hinckley, W. H. Trask. Treasurer, W. F. Englis, Ralph R. Patch, Herman C. Henrici, E. M. Berliner. Institute Committee (vote for two), Harry M. Nabstedt, Geo. W. Burpee, Jorge Lage, L. G. Blodgett, C. F. Wetterer, J. T. Lawton. Executive Committee (vote for two), Philip B. Stanley, R. Bingham, George M. Henderson, H. L. Williams, H. S. Wilkins, A. B. Orcutt.

No unsigned ballots will be accepted. Ballots must be in by Oct. 28, 1 P.M.

LECTURE ON TOLSTOI.

Professor Dr. Eugen Kuhnemann, Prorector of the University of Posen, who is visiting the United States to study American educational institutions and methods, has kindly consented to give his famous lecture on Leo Tolstoi on Wednesday at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Deutscher Sprachverein. The lecture will be in German and every one interested is invited to attend.

The Cross Country team took an easy run over the course from West Roxbury to Tech Field, Saturday afternoon.

FRESHMEN PLAY TIE GAME.

Teams Evenly Matched.—Both Fail to Score.

The Freshman football team met its equal when it played the Colonial Athletic Club of Jamaica Plain on the Tech Field Saturday afternoon. The latter's team was more or less of a picked one and put up a good game although they had had little practice.

There were many fumbles made and neither team gained well on the offense, but both held strongly, and notwithstanding that each side was offered a good chance for a touchdown no scoring was done.

The playing by the Freshmen was too individual for good team work, the interference of the backs was poor, and the ends were drawn in too far on the defence. The kicking was short except for one punt made by Wentworth, '09, in the second half which was fumbled and the ball downed by a Tech man, very near the goal line of the Colonials. The longest run was one of twenty yards made by L. Kelley of the Athletic Club.

The line up was as follows:

TECH 1809.	ATHLETIC CLUB.
Whitney, Fletcher, r.e.	Huegle, Quentin
Croke, r.t.	r.t. Bailey
Critchet, r.g.	r.g. McRabe
Weiss, c.	c. Cutler
Judd, l.g.	l.g. Donath
Fletcher, l.t.	l.t. Fallon
Finnie, Laird, Moses, l.e.	l.e. Hall
Sharp, Hert, q.b.	q.b. Murray
Godfrey, r.h.b.	r.h.b. Truethorne
Wentworth, l.h.b.	l.h.b. Kelley, (Capt)
Hunt, f.b.	f.b. C. Kelley

Score: Tech '09, 0; Colonial A. C., 0. Halves, 25 and 15 minutes. Umpire, Hopkins. Referee, Sugden. Timer, Bennett, '09. Linesmen, A. Shaw, '09, and Deveiwe of Colonlal A. C.

LOWELL INSTITUTE LECTURE.

The second lecture of the first course in the Lowell Institute series by Dr. James Ford Rhodes, held Friday evening in Huntington Hall, was characterized by a sweeping criticism of the ideas of Charles Sumner, the Massachusetts Senator, on Reconstruction and Negro Suffrage. Dr. Rhodes maintained that Sumner's attempt to immediately bring about universal suffrage and equal relations between the two races in the South was a great injustice to the white, inasmuch as its success would have overthrown countless established institutions. Sumner's policy stands out in striking contrast to that of President Lincoln and Governor Andrew, who wished to propitiate, and not take advantage of, their defeated foe.

The next lecture of this course will be held tomorrow evening. This evening Prof. Knox of the Union Theological Seminary will give his third lecture on the far-eastern religions.

Princeton has thirty-five candidates for the cross country team.

ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY.

Successful Meeting Held at the Union Friday Evening.

The Architectural Society held a very hilarious smoker at the Union Friday evening. Mr. Sturgis, who was to have addressed the Society, was prevented from being present by illness. J. J. Donovan, '06, and F. Schneider, '08, gave a fast exhibition boxing match of three rounds, and the second year men gave an exhibition of memory sketching. The second and third year men played an impromtu football game against the fourth and fifth year men, no score being kept.

President W. C. Furer announced that in the near future the Architectural Society would hold a joint smoker with the Pen and Ink Club of Harvard. The Society has also been invited to attend the smokers of the Boston Society of Architects.

At the business meeting, President Furer stated that the profits from the 1905 Architectural Annual were about $400. The following second year men were nominated for membership: Bentley, Brown, Buchler, Dempwolf, Dolke, Gates, Haskell, Mohn, Phelps, Schmidt, Vedder, Vonnegut, Williams, Wolfender and Youngerman.

HARE AND HOUND.

The fourth Hare and Hound chase was held from Wellesley on Saturday afternoon. Forty-two men turned out and the run was the most invigorating one held this season.

The Hares, O. H. Starkweather, '07, and L. Allen, '07, laid an excellent trail of about seven miles through the Wellesley College grounds and along the edge of Needham to Wellesley Hills, where the Sophomore-Wellesley High game was in progress. After cheering '08 on to victory the men ran back to Wellesley. The order of finishing was:

1st, C. S. Clapp, '08; 2d, S. P. Newton, '06; 3d, E. S. Campbell, '06; 4th, H. H. Howland, '08; 5th, H. S. Duncan, '07; 6th, C. L. Batchelder, '08.

The Bags were found by E. B. Rowe, '06, and Munoz Zertusche, '08.

The time of the Hares was 1 hour 26 minutes, and that of the Hounds 1 hour 36 minutes.

The next run will be at Winchester on Nov. 4.

SOPHOMORE PIPES.

The '08 Class Pipe Committee reported the results of their investigation to the class last Friday. It was decided to have both straight and drop stemmed pipes, so that everybody might be satisfied. The price of the pipes is to be either $3.00 or $3.25 according to the number ordered and they will be delivered on the earliest possible date.

WILLIAM A. NICHOLS, PRINTER, 208 SUMMER ST., REAR

The opportunity of hearing Prof. Dr. Kuhneman of the University of Posen, lecture on Leo Tolstoi, is one that Tech men should not pass by.

We note with pleasure that an Orchestra has been added to our list of Musical Clubs, an extend our best wishes for its success.

Computing Machine vs. Engineer.

Many men just entering upon the work of their Sophomore or Junior years, doubtless wonder what relation the subjects which they take up bear to the profession which they are to pursue. This is a preplexing question, and one which cannot often be explained with definiteness. Too often men here are so completely buried in the detail of the problems and tasks of study set for them, that they have no conception of the real nature of what they are attempting to accomplish. There are several ways in which a Tech man may keep in touch with what must be his real object in coming to Tech. One is by reading from time to time the scientific weeklies and magazines, or by visiting such works of engineering as may be accessible. By far the most helpful, however, is membership in the professional societies, with the opportunities which they give for coming into sympathy with the broad field of scientific and technical undertakings and its representative workers.

1908 TUG OF WAR.

The Sophomore Tug-of-War team practices at the Oval on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and at the Gym on Tuesday and Thursday at 4.10 P.M. sharp. The Manager desires that all the candidates come out regularly from this time on, as it is the practice of the next two weeks that will count. If new men come out now and work hard every afternoon, they still have a chance of making the team. It is a second team that makes a winning team of the regular men, and the scrubs have the satisfaction of knowing that their team could not have won without their aid.

BRITISH STUDENTS CELEBRATE.

The Technology British Empire Association attended the exercises held in Tremont Temple last Saturday evening under the auspices of the Victorian Club of Boston to celebrate the anniversary of the Battle of Trafalgar.

The speakers of the occasion were Capt. A. T. Mahan, U.S.N., His Excellency Sir H. M. Durand, His Britannic Majesty's Ambassador at Washington, Admiral of the Fleet Sir Edward Seymour, R. N., and Commander Takeshita, Imperial Japanese Navy, Naval Attache to the Japanese Legation at Washington.

1907 NOMINATIONS.

The 1907 nominations are as follows:

For President, Woodward, Robbins, Packard, Macomber. For Vice-President, Frank, Starkweather, Rood. For Secretary, Chipman, Richards, Davenport. For Treasurer, MacMillan, G. Griffin. For Institute Committee, Leavell, Burheans, Magregor, Ashenden, Allen. For Executive Committee, Spear, Whittemore, Luther, Elder, Bryant.

LOST.

THEATRE ATTRACTIONS.

Park Theatre.

Henry B. Harris' production of "The Lion and the Mouse" is scheduled for presentation at the Park Theatre, Monday night, when this, the latest play of Charles Klein, author of "The Music Master" and other successes, will be seen for the first time here. In "The Lion and the Mouse" Mr. Klein has chosen a theme not previously utilized for dramatic purposes, and yet it is one that is widely discussed today, that of the corrupting influences exerted by monopolists upon the policies of this country.

Hollis Street Theatre.

For genuine, wholesome enjoyment see Hnerietta Crosman and her company at the Hollis Street Theatre in that clever modern comedy, "Mary, Mary so Contrary." This week will be the last of Miss Crosman's engagement, and there will be many to cry pity that the time is so short. One more week will ill-suffice the many who will wish to see this gifted artist in the best thing she has ever done in Boston and applaud the excellent company which is contributing no small share to the success of the undertaking.

Colonial Theatre.

The new combination of Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert, as evidenced by "M'lle Modiste," at the Colonial Theatre, comes near to the genuine Gilbert and Sullivan style and value in comic opera. Aided by the consummate art of the brilliant and incomparable Fritzi Scheff, "M'lle Modiste" has achieved a tremendous popularity in Boston, and the engagement that is limited to two weeks long, is far too short to suit the tastes of local playgoers. Not that the authors of "M'lle Modiste" needed the aid of an particular artists to bring out the merits of their work, because "M'lle Modiste" is a more than satisfying product, and stands alone well upon its merits. If Fritzi Scheff helps the opera, the opera uudoubtedly helps Fritzi Scheff.

Tremont Theatre.

With this week, Boston's chances of seeing "The College Widow" will end. Mr. Savage's players will give way next Saturday to his opera singers and make a short tour in New England, visiting Providence, Worcester and Hartford, and dividing a week between the cities.

Castle Square Theatre.

An immediate success has been the reward bestowed by the public upon the production of Sardou's "Cleopatra" at the Castle Square Theatre. The house has been crowded in every part at every performance—both afternoon and evening—throughout the entire week, and the demand for seats has been unprecedented, even for that popular playhouse. As a result "Cleopatra" was not withdrawn tonight, as originally intended, but will be the bill for the whole of this week.

FEVER AT MISSOURI.

The University of Missouri is being bothered with an epidemic of typhoid. An investigation has been made as to the cause, and it has been found that the trouble is not from the water supply, for that is in perfect condition, but from the condition of the surrounding streets and alleys. The health board has ordered these to be carefully cleaned, and it is thought that the epidemic will not be as serious as it looked to be at first.

Columbia students are trying to find out whether the rules prohibiting hazing apply to Barnard College as well as to the men's institution.

Some persons say that when a freshman arrives she is set upon by seniors and dragged to a room where she is made to perform certain "stunts," such as drinking milk from a nursing bottle, or singing classic songs to the accompaniment of a spoon beating on a tin plate.

Majestic Theatre.

Monday night will see the beginning of the third week of one of the most successful engagements ever known in Boston of a rural drama, Dr. Snyder's "As Ye Sow," at the Majestic Theatre. The theatre-going public of Boston, reenforced by the clergy and the church-going class, which seldom attend the theatre, have thronged the Majestic Theatre during the first two weeks of the engagement just ending.

Boston Theatre.

"The Old Homestead" will remain at the Boston Theatre for a fortnight longer, and Denman Thomson, healthy, happy and spry as ever, will continue his inimitable impersonation of that jolly, wholesome, honest and generous Yankee farmer, Uncle Josh. Verily, this familiar play, dear to every true New England heart, has lost none of its popularity.
